

Aliev Kayumkhoja (1900-1941) - educator. He was born in the family of an imam, in Koylyk district of Tashkent region. His father died in 1907, working as a teacher in a new Uzbek school and a Russian-style school. Lived in Shirin kuduq mahalla in Tashkent city. He studied in elementary schools until 1917. Until 1919, he studied at a Russian school and a madrasa. In 1919, he completed a three-month teacher training course. In 1920-1923, he worked as a weaver. In 1918-1921, with the recommendation of Shokirjon Rahimi and the referral of the public education department of the old city, he completed three courses at the Faculty of Labor of Baku. Until 1927, he was a teacher in various schools. In 1927, when he went to Leningrad, he met and talked with Musa Begiev. In 1928-1930, he was a consultant and head of the Department of Public Education, head of Pedagogical Technical College No. 1.

Aliev Kayumkhoja was a member of the sect until 1927, after the purge of the sect he was deleted. He was imprisoned on July 30, 1930 in connection with the “Narkom Pros case”. But after his guilt was not fully proven, in 1931 he was suspended for three years. In 1933, he was accused of poisoning Obid Saidov by the OGPU collegium and was sentenced to 10 years in prison. He spent his exile in Malik state farm of Sirdarya region. In 1941, he was tried again and on January 9, 1941, he was sent to a labor camp for 5 years. The next fate is not known.