

Tulagan Khojamiyorov – Tavallo (1883-1938) is one of the representatives of Uzbek national literature. He was born in Obinazir mahalla in Tashkent, in the family of shepherd Jiyanboy Khojamiyorov. He was educated in an old-style school, finished the 5th grade of a Russian-style school. Yusuf became a student of the famous poet Yusuf Saryomi, studied and mastered the secrets of classical literature and poetry. Tavallo has been engaged in artistic creation since the 1900s. He continued the traditions of classical literature in his poetry and glorified the reformist ideas that were rapidly entering the life of society in his time. Along with his contemporaries, he took part in the activities of “Jamiyati imdodiya”, “Turon” and “Sho‘royi islom” organizations. In 1900, on the recommendation of his father, he went to Prezhevalsk and worked as a silversmith for a Usmonbek boy. In 1909, he returned from there and studied for a while at Beklarbegi madrasa. In 1914, together with his comrades, he founded the “Nashriyot” firm. In 1914-1916, he worked in the merchant Albert Guber's company, in 1917-1918, he was a member of the executive committee of the old city of Tashkent; In 1918-1919, he became a member of the faction; In 1924, he worked at the RevTribunal of Fergana. He took an active part in many publications of Turkestan, including “Turkiston viloyatining gazeti”, “Oyina”, “Sadoyi Turkiston” keyinchalik “Qizil bayroq”, “Turkiston” especially "Mushtum" magazine with his satirical poems.

In 1926, he worked in the press organization. In 1937, he worked as an instructor at the “Qizil xomashyochilar uyushmasi”. He was arrested in 1937 and sentenced to death on October 19 of this year. In 1916, he published a collection of poems "Ravnaqul Islom".